Instructions for employee

North Dakota has income tax reciprocity agreements with Minnesota and Montana. If you are a resident of one of these states, the agreements provide that you do not have to pay North Dakota income tax on wages you earn for work in North Dakota. If you are a resident of Minnesota, this applies only if you return to your permanent residence in Minnesota at least once a month.

Note: The wages you earn for work in North Dakota are subject to income tax in your state of residence.

If you do not want North Dakota income tax withheld from your wages, you must complete this form and give it to your employer by February 28 of the calendar year for which you want it to apply, or within 30 days after you begin working or change your permanent residence. You must complete a new form and give it to your employer each year to continue the exemption from withholding.

If you do not complete this form and give it to your employer as explained above, your employer must withhold North Dakota income tax from your wages.

If North Dakota income tax was already withheld from your wages, you must complete and file a North Dakota income tax return at the end of the year to obtain a refund.

Fill out the form completely

If you do not fill in every item on this form, your employer must withhold North Dakota income tax from your wages. Sign and date the form. Your phone number is not required, but we ask for it so we can contact you if we have questions.

Your employer will be able to provide you with the correct federal ID number if you do not have this information.

Make a copy of this form for your records and give the original to your employer.

It may only be given to your state of residence, the Internal Revenue Service, other states that guarantee the same confidentiality, and to other state agencies as provided by law. Your name, address and social security number are required for identification. Your address is also required to verify your state of residence. Your employer's name, address, federal ID number and telephone number are required in case we have to contact your employer regarding withholding income tax from your wages. If you do not complete any of this information, your employer is required to withhold North Dakota income tax from your wages.

Instructions for employer
